young Aboriginal support Program

About Cornerstone

Cornerstone is a youth friendly service providing person-centred supportive approaches to mental health care. Our aim is to support young people to achieve their mental health and wellbeing goals.

young Aboriginal support Program

We offer case management and group work for all young people who self identify as First Nations and live in the North of Tasmania.

Our Case Managers provide individual support to help young people create goals and work towards achieving them.

Our groups support connection to community, including cultural arts based activities, health and wellbeing groups and school holiday programs.

Our service is free and confidential for young people aged 12-25.

What to Expect

Our team of case managers are committed to working with you to support your goals for up to 12 months.

With your consent we can also offer support on a range of issues impacting on your health and wellbeing.

Our project manager offers ongoing support through groups and events held in the community.

Cancellation

We offer flexible appointment types across the North. If you need to cancel, let us know and we can reschedule.

Proudly supported by the National Indigenous Australians Agency (NIAA). Original yAsp logo credit to a young Aboriginal artist.

How to Access Support

Contact us if you'd like to hear more about what type of support we can offer, or if you would like to find out more about our group programs.

Acknowledgement of Country

We acknowledge the Aboriginal people as the traditional owners of the Land and pay our respects to Elders past and present. For they hold the memories, traditions and the culture of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people across the nation. Always was, always will be Aboriginal land.
